SUMMARY

Dedicated to both my bachelor's degree and honing my skills as a Frontend Developer. My goal is to craft captivating and user-friendly web interfaces that make a lasting impact. I'm passionate about using HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, and React.js to create visually appealing and responsive user experiences. Staying updated with design trends and technologies is my way of ensuring outstanding results in frontend development. My dual focus on academics and frontend expertise positions me as a promising talent in shaping the future of web design.
